

HE CORRECTED KEPLER.

Story of a Famous Boy Astronomer—The First Observer of a Transit of Venus.

One of the most remarkable boys that ever lived was the one who last predicted and observed a transit of the planet Venus. He has been lost sight of in the great discoveries of modern astronomy, and the one thing which rendered him famous is hardly ever referred to, but his genius stands almost without a parallel.

His name was Jeremiah Horrocks (some of his biographers spell it Horrox), and the honor of his birthplace belongs to the little town of Toxteth, near Liverpool.

Long before he reached the age for entering Cambridge college he had been a lover of books of science, and his mind running to astronomy, he mastered many of its intricate problems.

At that time the planet Venus was attracting the attention of the scientific world, and the telescopes of England were turned upon it by eager observers. Horrocks had already discovered that the tables of Kepler, the great astronomer, indicated a coming transit of the beautiful planet, and, filled with the idea of observing this event, he spent the midsummer nights in the fields searching the starry heavens, with the crude appliances at his command.

It was a great thing for one to observe what the old astronomers had

Hancock, reaching the spot where the Union line was being forced back, and watching his furiously ridden horse, called out:

"What regiment is that?"

"The First Minnesota."

"Charge those lines," he cried, and a charge into eternity that order meant. At double quick, without discharging a gun, with the concentrated fire of the Confederate army pouring a deadly rain of death upon them—

double quick, then at full speed, they charged into the enemy's advancing ranks. General Hancock saw that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

General Hancock said that a five minutes' respite meant the arrival of reinforcements and a turning of a tide of battle. He sacrificed this noble regiment to those fearful five minutes and the position was held. The charge saved the day, but 82 per cent. of the men who made the charge were left on the field. Nearly every officer was dead or mortally wounded. Of the 262 men who made the charge 215 were shot down by the bullets of the enemy.

FOR RENT UNFURNISHED.

HOUSE OF FIVE ROOMS, SUITABLE for one or two families, near business, 24 E. Brigham street.

HOUSE OF EIGHT ROOMS, SUITABLE for two families. Enquire 48 South West Temple.

TO RENT A DWELLING HOUSE NO. 3 Third East street, with all modern improvements, including water, gas and electric light. Enquire at No. 32 State street.

FOR RENT—EIGHT ROOMED HOUSE, with modern conveniences, one block north of Eagle Gate, also two or three small houses. Enquire at Mrs. Woodmansee, Fifth street, corner C.

UNTA HOTEL, EUROPEAN PLAN. Special rates. 16 Commercial street.

CONWAY HOUSE—FURNISHED. 2400 West Temple, week or month, 122 South West Temple.

I HAVE FURNISHED HOUSES and rooms in all parts of the city for rent. Conveyances always ready at my office to show them to you free of charge. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

CONWAY HOUSE—FURNISHED. Rooms by the day, week or month, 122 South West Temple.

FURNISHED HOUSE, FIVE ROOMS. Electric light and water. 161 C street.

FOR RENT—RENTERS ATTENTION! I have over 20 houses in all parts of the city for rent. My list includes every location, price and convenience. Conveyances and courteous attendants always ready to show you houses free of charge. Save street car fare, time and trouble by getting your houses of me. The only first class rental department in the city. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED OFFICES in Culmer block. Low rates. Apply room 71.

STOLEN.

STRAYED OR STOLEN—A BLUE mare, had harness on and attached to a carriage, and was last seen at the city to police headquarters and be rewarded.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13, AT 10 o'clock a.m., I will sell at public sale at 260 South Main street, Salt Lake city, the remainder of the Exposition stock of goods by the month, E. G. Bogan, assignee. Said stock consists of ladies' and gents' furnishings, notions, shoes, etc.

BUSINESS CHANCE.

BUSINESS CHANCES, BOGAN, 410 Postoffice block.

SPLendid OPENINGS IN MEAT market, well established, good location; money makers. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

IF YOU WANT A GOOD PAYING MEAT business, call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

SEVERAL BAKERIES AND CONFECTIONARIES doing a nice business. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

WHOLE OR HALF INTEREST IN good boot shops. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

A FEW SPLENDID OPENINGS IN the hardware and plumbing business. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

IF YOU WISH TO ENGAGE IN ANY line of business, call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

SPLendid OPENINGS FOR CAPABLE office men to get full interest in established businesses, $30 to $5,000 required. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

I HAVE SEVERAL NICE GROCERIES for sale. From $300 to $5,000 required. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

IF YOU WANT A GOOD PAYING SALARY call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

FURNISHED ROOMING HOUSES and hotels, centrally located, 10 to 50 rooms, clearing $50 to $200 per month. Price $2,000 to $5,000. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

SEVERAL GOOD PAYING RESTAURANTS, prices $200 to $2,000. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

IF YOU DON'T SEE WHAT YOU WANT in the above list, call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

HIGHEST PRICE PAID FOR CITY, county and territorial warrants. F. Auerbach & Co.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

A FINE CORNER, 5x100 rods, 4-room house, stable, fruit trees, city water. Price $10,000. Call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

TEN ACRE TRACT CLOSE TO CITY, all in lucerne, plenty of water. $120 per acre. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

FOUR ACRES IN ORCHARD, CLOSE to city, all in lucerne, plenty of water. $1,200 per acre. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

IF YOU WANT A GOOD FARM in any part of the west, call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—CHEAP, TWO HORSES, Enquire at 74 East Second South street.

FOR SALE—A SNAP, BUSINESS house and lot on lower twenty-fifth street. Enquire at 74 East Second South street.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—$5,000 INTEREST in the best paying business in the territory. Address: J. D. Drue, P. O. box 72.

TO SELL OR EXCHANGE FOR UN-encumbered house and lot in near Salt Lake city, one two-story granite rock building, with all modern improvements, nicely fitted for saloon purposes, and rest for hotel, furnished and complete. Address: J. D. Drue, P. O. box 72.

FOR SALE—A HORSE ENGINE, 2-horse boiler, stationary, one 1-horse engine, 1-horse boiler, portable, at a bargain. Enquire at 15 South First West.

FOR SALE—GOOD HORSE, BUGGY and harness, cheap; also splendid work team, harness and wagon, and two nice saddle horses. Call on me. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

FOR SALE—100 FRENCH RAMS, OR to trade for western stock sheep. John T. Alexander, third house west of new race track.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—$5,000 INTEREST in the best paying business in the territory. Part cash balance trade, J. D. Drue, P. O. box 72.

FOR SALE—A NUMBER ONE GOLD watch, Elgin movement, for sale at bed rock price. Apply at once. F. K. Smith, 15 South First West.

FOR SALE—NICE GENTLE BUGGY horse and harness; $80. W. J. Hogan, 410 Postoffice block.

TO TRADE—CITY PROPERTY FOR farm. Must have plenty of water and located near railway. Address: J. A. Brown, 12 E. First South. FINDER REWARDED.

WANTED TO TRADE THE BEST farm in Utah, well improved; nine acres orchard, for improved city property. P. W. Room 23 O'Meara block, 55 W. Second South.

WILL TRADE A SURETY FOR a good farm here; one that will ride and drive preferred. A. C. Young, Grant's livery stable.

BIDS WANTED.

BIDS WANTED FOR HALLS AND committee rooms for legislative assembly. Sealed bids will be received at the office of the secretary of Utah territory at 10 o'clock a.m. on November 13, 1893, for convenient and suitable halls and committee rooms, connected with the territorial capital building, to be completed by January 1, 1894. The halls and committee rooms must be well lighted and heated. Plans and specifications will be on file at the office of the secretary of the territory for further particulars. Bids are to be returned to the office of the secretary of the territory at 10 o'clock a.m. on November 13, 1893.

CHARLES C. RICHARDS, Secretary of Utah.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

ACCOUNTANTS.

H. N. WINTER, ACCOUNTANT, LES-sons given, 425 Constitution building.

ATTORNEYS.

A. B. SAWYER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, 415 Progress building.

B. MACMASTERS AND M. L. STANFORD, stenographer and typewriter office, 424 Postoffice block.

EUGENE LEWIS, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, 218 Postoffice block.

F. E. MCGURRIN, PROGRESS BUILDING, stenographer and typewriter. All kinds.

JAMES A. WILLIAMS, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Rooms 404 and 405 Progress block.

J. F. CORKER, PATENT ATTORNEY, Patents on inventions, caveats, etc., Pat-ent Office, Washington, D. C., 1015 Main street, Salt Lake city.

JAMES H. MOYLE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Rooms 301 to 303 Constitution block.

JNO. W. JUDD, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW and United States attorney for Utah, Rooms 101 and 102 Commercial block.

L. M. ARMSTRONG, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, 11 Commercial block.

JNO. LU. TAYLOR, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, 75 W. Second South street, Salt Lake city, Utah.

RICHARDS & RICHARDS, ATTORNEYS and counselors, Room 800 McCornick block.

RICHARD W. YOUNG, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Deseret National bank building, up stairs, second floor.

W. H. DICKSON, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Rooms 312 to 313 Progress block.

Williams, Van Cott & Southerland, Farley L. Waldeman, George Hooper block.

C. CARTWRIGHT, D. S. DENTIST, Dent block, 1015 Main street, Salt Lake city, Utah. Extractions without pain.

HAPPY HOUR DENTAL CO., 215 1/2 State St. Appointments by mail solicited.

J. B. KEYSOR & BRO., DENTISTS—Rooms 1, 2 and 3, first floor, Dentist-Auerbach building.

PERSONAL.

FIVE DOLLARS WILL PAPER ANY ordinary store room ceiling, side walls and border. Peats Wall Paper Co., 61 State St.

EVERY LADY CAN MAKE HER husband's shirts at home by getting pattern and instructions from Salt Lake City. Measures taken and patterns cut, instructions given in making. Will also make well finished and good looking dresses. No more high priced shirts. Salt Lake City Shirts company, rooms 404 and 405 Progress block, 55 West Second South street.

I WANT LADIES TO USE MY INFAL-ible remedies for monthly irregularities. The best assortment of country goods confidentially. Ladies treated at home or at my office with room and board. Address: J. D. Drue, P. O. box 72.

MARRIED LADIES SAFEGUARDED. Wanted in moderate or no amount of money. Refunded if not satisfactory. Send 10c to Ladies' Novelty company, Kansas City, Mo.

WANTED TO RENT MASQUERADE costumes from 50 cents up to $5. Full line of masks always on hand. Madame Rhine, 61 E. First South street.

YOUNG LADIES WISHING TO be introduced to gentlemen, call on Mrs. M. J. Stewart, 234 West Third South street.

HORSES WINTERED AT THE BUT-terfield stable, to suit the time. Called for and brought in. Enquire Jockey Club stable, Market street.

SECOND-HAND CLOTHING BOUGHT and sold. Chris Christensen, 352 West First South.

ASSESSMENT.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT—SOUTH Fork Consolidated Mining Company, District of Columbia, to the Territory of Utah. Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the directors of said company will be held on the 15th day of November, 1893, at 10 o'clock a.m., in the city of Salt Lake, county of Salt Lake, territory of Utah, on the 2nd day of December, 1893, at 10 o'clock a.m., to consider and act upon the following: (1) To elect a committee to prepare and submit to the stockholders a report on the financial condition of the company, and (2) To consider and act upon the report of said committee.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT—SOUTH Fork Consolidated Mining Company, District of Columbia, to the Territory of Utah. Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the directors of said company will be held